

The Castle Cinema Brand identity

Films with cut through

The Castle Cinema, with branding by Neon, was created for friends of Neon who had set up a small summer series of events doing pop up Cinema at some of West Sussex's wide variety of Castles and stately homes, with all profit to be given to local charities.

As they say with film, it's all in the editing...

Neon took the classic film strip and, well, just edited a bit off... to create a simple and witty brand mark that helped clearly communicate the event offering and venues.

Neon also created an animated ident for pre and post film showings.

As is the trend with Cinema there's always the sequel... Following on from our work for event company The Castle Cinema, Neon were commissioned to create a name and an identity for a new start up film company – Sawhorse Films.
